

GSK

GSK is proud to partner with BSP as one of their sponsors in helping to promote a better understanding of periodontitis and its impact on patients.

At the start of 2021 GSK were delighted to support the BSP with the launch of the UK version of the S3 Treatment Guidelines for Periodontitis to general dental practice. The flowchart summarises the key outputs to help dental care professionals implement the guidelines in clinical practice and includes links to a series of short, informative guidance videos.

In November it was great to be able to meet with BSP members in person as part of the annual conference in London. GSK provides a range of specialist therapeutic oral care products which are clinically proven to help patients with oral health conditions such as dentine hypersensitivity, gingivitis, erosive tooth wear and xerostomia.
